WingTsun Blitz-Defence

WingTsun BLITZ-DEFENCE deals with a much neglected type of combat which occurs everywhere, many thousands of times each year, with many serious injuries and even fatalities. In this form of ritual combat the typical martial artist almost always comes off second-best against the unscrupulous street thug. The WingTsun Blitz-Defence programs are the ultimate response to such threats. The program which has been tried and tested by elite police units and consists of just a few highly effective WingTsun techniques which will rapidly put an attacker out of action.

What is WingTsun Kung Fu

The WingTsun system is self-defence in its most efficient and consistent form. developed in a shaolin monastery in southern China, approx. 250 years ago by the nun Ng Mui.

Your own physical strength or prior abilities NEED NOT be the decisive factor in a threatening situation. The young or physically weak are always the first targets of aggressors. However, ANY person can gain self confidence and a level of fitness which will increase their self-defence abilities by 500%. WingTsun training will teach you to direct the force of an attack against the attacker, i.e. to 'borrow' the energy of the attacker, 'charging up' one's own body and then effortlessly redirecting the energy back against its source.

WingTsun is one of the very few self-defence systems that prepares you for every phase of a fight, using feet, fists, elbows and knees. Instead of retreating, a WingTsun student will advance and glue themselves to their assailant, rendering them unable to continue their attack. This proximity, combined with well-defined movements, will force the attacker into a helpless position. Advanced WingTsun students turn into an instant nightmare for any aggressor.
